An accident involving two Vulcan citizens, in the persons of Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Heal, was missed from the Advocate columns of last week. The Champion Chronicle reported the happening as follows:

Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Heal, while motoring to Calgary Sunday evening, were fortunate in escaping injuries when their car plunged into a truck which was stalled on the highway. According to information received, the truck, bearing no lights, was stalled in the centre of the highway, over a hill, with the driver, who was frantically waving on one side of the road and an irrigation ditch on the other. Dr. Heal had but one choice, and he took it, damaging his car considerably. Dr. and Mrs. Heal proceeded to Calgary, returning to their home in Vulcan on Monday.

MUSICAL TEA A DECIDED SUCCESS

On Saturday afternoon the ladies of St. Andrew's Church held a most enjoyable Musical Tea at the home of Mrs. Stack. The rooms were tastefully arranged and the tea table, most attractively decorated with tall yellow tapers and centered with a large bowl of seasonal fruits giving the autumn effect, was presided over by Mrs. J. J. Shaw and Mrs. A. D. Mitchell. Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Chas. Rebbe, Mrs. D. MacIntyre and the Misses Marie Shaw, Lillian McKinley and Geneva Fortier. Mrs. Stack and Mrs. Henry J. Spanke, president of the league, received the many guests. During the afternoon music was furnished by Miss Mary Tierney, violinist of Calgary, Miss B. Walker and Kathleen Stack, while Mrs. W. W. Almond was heard to advantage in pleasing vocal solos.

The home cooking table was in charge of Mrs. Herman Spanke. The raffling of the quilt donated by Mrs. D. MacIntyre was in charge of Mrs. E. Fortier, and the lucky ticket holder was Mr. E. Phelan of the British American filling station.

The ladies take this opportunity to thank all those who gave their patronage during the afternoon and helped to make the tea such a success.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Korczynski Leaving Vulcan

Section Foreman Here Since 1916 Receives Pension from C.P.R.—
36 Years of Service

This Friday Mr. and Mrs. P. Korczynski are bidding Vulcan friends good-bye and are leaving for an extended trip to the United States after 18 years of residence in town. A few weeks ago Mr. Korczynski received his pension from the Canadian Pacific Ry. Company after 36 years of work with the railway. He has not been in the line of health for the past while and is now going to Rochester, Minn., for examination for stomach trouble. Later the couple will go to San Francisco, Cal., where they will spend the winter months with his brother, Tony, and sister, Mrs. C. Williamson. They are planning to make their future home in Calgary after returning from the United States.

Mr. Korczynski started working with the railway company in May, 1898, at Deception, Ont., at the age of 21 years. He worked at various points on the Manitoba border for the next four years. He was married in Winnipeg in 1902.

The couple came west in 1913, residing at Kamloops, B.C., for three years. In October, 1916, they moved to Vulcan. Since that time Mr. Korczynski has been section foreman here. The pension will start from the first day of June this year.

Mr. Korczynski certainly appreciates receiving the pension after so many years of work, and has asked The Advocate to thank the company in this manner.

Mr. John Olsen will come here from Kirkcaldy to take the position vacated by the retirement of Mrs. Olson and family will come with Mr. Olsen to make Vulcan their place of residence. Mr. Tom Martin who has been relieving here for the past few months, will be foreman at Kirkcaldy.

During the past week several repairs have been made to the section of the King block housing Osborne's Ladies' Shoppe. A basement has been made under the store and a furnace heater constructed. The building was enlarged to accommodate a passage way to the basement. The front of the premises has been painted and the side stuccoed.

Convention Here Saturday

The main work of the convention will be transacted during the afternoon session. O. L. McPherson, U.F.A. member for this constituency, will address the gathering, as will other speakers.

Entertaining Program Is Sponsored by Ladies' Aid Groups

Children's Drills Featured in a Program of Song and Music; Social Evening Follows Entertainment

Sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of the United Church, the programme and social evening held in the church auditorium on Friday of last week drew a good attendance. The entertainment was of a varied nature and pleased the audience. Refreshments were served in the Sunday School room following the programme.

Features of the evening were two drills, well staged by two different groups of girls twelve in each item. One, "A Basket of Old-Fashioned Roses," was made pretty by the old-fashioned costumes. While Misses Helen Jamison, Ruth Peterson, Joyce Robson and Hannah Clarkson sang a song to suit the action of the drill, eight little girls went through the exercises. Those taking part were Marion Jones, Elaine Allen, Marjorie Symge, Audrey Leverington, Marion Mensinger, Norma McLaggan, Lila Jean Clark and Thelma Fisher. The other drill, "The Sunbonnet Girls," was equally pretty and as well staged. The following girls took part: Rhue Clark, Kath Craig, Mildred Ulrich, Rhoda Scobie, Lenore McLaggan, Lillian Clarkson, Lillian Ulrich, Avis Deal, Hannah Clarkston, Cora Woodward, Nonnie McAfee and Nora Collier.

Vocal selections on the programme included a quartette by Mr. Weale, Mr. Walker, Mrs. Allred and Miss Warden; a duet by Misses Mayme Lebeau and Buelah Walker. A cute number was rendered by Lila Jean Clarkston and Ralph Clark, an Irish song in costume. Mrs. Campbell and Jones staged a burlesque duet, taking the parts of two old maids. The item was well done and provoked lots of laughter from the spectators. An item of much appeal and one that brought a great deal of comment was the singing of a number of solo selection from the Sir Harry Lauder repertoire by Mr. Neil Campbell. These were delightfully received by the audience, who were given the first opportunity to hear Mr. Campbell.

Musical selections included a piano duet by Misses McPherson and Walker; and a violin solo by Mr. E. Pedersen. This was Mr. Pedersen's first public appearance as a musician since making his residence at Vulcan. Orchestra selections were given by the McPherson Sisters Trio. All selections were enjoyed.

Recitations were given by Gordon Campbell and Rhue Clark during the course of the evening.

The social evening that followed the programme was well attended.

Town Council Meeting

The October meeting of the Vulcan Town Council was held at the municipal office on the first day of the month. Present: Mayor King, Councillors Allan, McLaggan, Jamison, Ulrich, Wolfe, Abent: Whitlock. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Routine accounts were read and passed for payment on motion of Councillor Allan.

A report of the Business Tax collections was presented to the council. The report showed that the payments were coming in well, in many cases only small balances being left. Special effort is being made by the business people to keep with the agreement made with the council. In two cases payment had not been made and the secretary was advised to instruct seizure procedure immediately. In one instance a party owing business tax had left town, and in another the business had closed doors.

It was again brought to the attention of the council that the members of the fire brigade were obstructed in their work of fire fighting. The case of a recent fire was brought forward to prove the point. It was decided that the members of the council who were not on the brigade would have full authority as police during any future fire. Badges will be bought for these special policemen to wear during fires. It was also decided that anyone interfering or obstructing the brigade would be prosecuted.

KIRKCALDY W. I. MEETING

Members of the Kirkcaldy W.I. held their first meeting in two months at the home of Mrs. Bert Maisey recently. Six members and three visitors were present. Mrs. Clements, president of the group, occupied the chair.

The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada," followed by the song, "When We All Get Together." A ten-minute discussion of current events brought forward much information re the news of the day. This was followed by Roll Call. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

It was decided to start a library by each member contributing a book. Mrs. Maisey was appointed to take care of the library. Decision was also made to hold a card party in the near future, the date to be announced later.

Mrs. Kegstra, Mrs. Seever and Mrs. Todd were appointed as the new Social Committee. Among the correspondence read was an invitation from the Prairie Garden group to attend a meeting. The invitation had to be declined due to the harvest work.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Lawrie on October 11th. A good attendance of members is requested. At this meeting a comforter, on which nearly 100 tickets have been sold, will be raffled.

Luncheon was served at the conclusion of the meeting by the hostess. A contest was staged by Mrs. Clements during the preparation of lunch.

Wright Family Moving To Eastern Canada

Mr. L. A. Wright Transferred from
Vulcan Branch Bank to Toronto;
Manager Here Since 1920

Manager of the Vulcan branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce since 1920, Mr. L. A. Wright has been transferred to Toronto. During the past few months Mr. Wright has been on sick leave and has been a patient in the Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, most of the time. During his absence Mr. Gibson has been relieving manager here. Mr. Gibson will continue until the arrival of the new manager, Mr. George Kyle, of the Mount Pleasant branch, Vancouver, B.C.

Yesterday The Advocate received the following letter from Mr. Wright: Toronto Wellesley Hospital, Sept. 28th.

The Vulcan Advocate, Vulcan, Alta.

To the Editor:

Would you please permit me space in your valuable newspaper to express my deep regrets for having to leave Vulcan and say good-bye so unceremoniously to all my friends in Vulcan and district. Nothing would give me more pleasure than to return and see them all again, but as I am still confined to the hospital in Toronto and my physicians have advised against my return to the West, my desires in this respect cannot be considered.

Although I am unaware of the name of my successor in the Bank of Commerce, I trust he will be accorded by the people of Vulcan and district such kindness and evidence of good-will, that have been mine there since 1920. On behalf of my family and myself I thank them all.

I have enjoyed reading your paper which my family has forwarded to me weekly, and I was glad to note in a recent issue the wonderfully fine financial standing of the town. I wish the town continued prosperity and that the ratepayers will benefit by a reduction in taxes from time to time.

Mrs. Wright and family will be moving East on Saturday, and I will add that we will always remember with the greatest pleasure our sojourn in Vulcan. L. A. WRIGHT.

CANADA'S APPLE LESSON

Study of the apple marketing conditions in Great Britain as those applied to last year's crop, makes clear the reasons for the quota threat this year. Australia shipped 6,000,000 boxes from July until August last year. The English crop matured two weeks earlier than usual and domestic apples came into a market clash with the Australian fruit, a considerable quantity of which had been stored. Then Canadian apples appeared on the scene, Nova Scotia shipping with a reckless abandon. Ontario and British Columbia apples followed in due course and the market was glutted.

Naturally prices dropped. This would not have mattered so much if the drop had been confined to the imported fruit but it included the domestic apples. Thereupon the English producers quite properly besought their government to take steps to prevent a recurrence of this economic midwinter.

As is well known, the British government embarked in 1930 on a policy of expansion and protection of home agriculture and implemented this policy by passing the British Marketing Act in 1932. The appeal of the apple growers did not fall on deaf ears and so the firm intimation was given to the exporting countries even though these were British Dominions, that there must be regulations or a quota system would have to be adopted.

This year Canada is exporting with a certain reserve and delicacy admirably suited to the circumstances. If it departs from this practice, an unpleasant and unprofitable situation certainly will be created. What actually is happening, is that Britain is teaching Canada how to market its products scientifically and the knowledge is not being imparted a moment too soon.—Vernon News.

EASY MARKS

Although there has been no news of local citizens being approached over long distance by high powered salesmen from Toronto or Montreal, it can happen.

The other day a citizen of Provost, Alberta, received a long distance call from Toronto, urging him to buy certain mining stocks. Other Albertans have had the same experience, which in one sense is highly flattering, but which calls for the warning "Danger."

The Provost News says: "The fact that somebody was willing to pay out $2 a minute to try to sell mining stocks to local investors in September 1934—and was actually using up lots of minutes at $2 apiece—seemed to point to one of two things. Either the depression had evaporated overnight, or there was a nigger in the woodpile somewhere."

"The Financial World of New York, warns Canadians that hundreds of high pressure stock salesmen have drifted up to Canada since stricter security laws have been enacted at Washington. The pickings right now are better in Canada.

"If citizens realized that at every hour of the day some Canadians are being duped of hundreds of thousands of dollars by 'smooth' confidence men such a public opinion would develop that jurisdictional disputes would soon be solved. All should be held responsible until they give ample evidence they are doing all that is possible.

"One man, who is at present calling up citizens of Ontario and Manitoba by long distance telephone to give them red-hot tips on a mining stock which may prove good or bad in the end but which is not even listed as yet, operates from Montreal. He apparently avoids trouble in Quebec by using the long distance telephone to points outside the province. His bill for long distance telephone messages must be tremendous. As he continues to keep up the telephoning week after week, and as he claims to get nothing but a commission, his telephone bills are apparently only a fraction of what he gets from the Canadian public. This is but one instance of what is going on.

"It is folly for investors to deal with strangers. It becomes ever more pressing to evolve in Canada laws and a compact organization for dealing so directly with every act of bad financial faith between men and men that questions of jurisdiction cannot be raised."

Edmonton Bulletin: Magistrate Primrose has served notice on whom it may concern that every person convicted in his court of having driven a car negligently while drunk will suffer the inconvenience of having his license suspended. That should be done always and everywhere when the offence is clearly established. Not merely, or mainly, as punishment of the offender, but as protection to the public.

Even the London Times which has swallowed to a certain extent the doctrine of the home market, in a recent issue came forward with this statement: It should be borne in mind that the limits of recovery will soon be attained unless vigorous action is taken to break down the obstructions to international trade which are still being erected almost everywhere under the mistaken plea of self-defence.—Lethbridge Herald.

WILD LIFE PROTECTION

This week High River will be the meeting point for delegates from all parts of the province attending the annual convention of the Fish and Game Protective Association. The High River branch of this body is one of the oldest in the province, and has had a not unimportant share in the framing of legislation for the conservation and increase of game and fish within the province, as well as for the reasonable enjoyment of shooting and fishing amongst sportsmen.

It is an honor for the town to have been selected as the convention centre for this important organization. The wide influence of the association is not always recognized. Although made up largely of those actively interested in sport of field and stream, it is self-disciplinary in nature, and the last thing desired is to deplete the resources of the province in the matter of wild life. Conservation ranks over "open seasons" in importance, and those protective measures enacted for the increase and care of birds and fish have had their origin with these sportsmen and have been made possible by the revenue paid by them to the province. It is one of their purposes to have that revenue used for a more thorough enforcement of protective laws.

"The Hungarian partridges abounding in the West, are here by the good offices of a group of sportsmen, who, in 1906, foresaw the advantage of such a game bird. The pheasants which are increasing in such numbers owe their introduction here to the Fish and Game Association. The closing of the tributaries of the Highwood, urged by the local group, ensures a continuance of the reputation of this river as one of the finest trout streams on the continent.

All legislation enacted in recent years, for the preservation of Alberta wild life has been framed in co-operation with the Fish and Game Association, and the government has given consideration to all suggestions from this responsible body. Amongst measures in which they have been concerned have been the Migratory Bird Treaty of 1921, and subsequent amendments; the big game preserves of the National park, the fish hatcheries in various parts of the province; the preservation of buffalo and antelope, and the destruction of game pests. It is for this reason that the Dept. of Agriculture, the Department of Forestry and of lands and rivers, regard with attention all recommendations of the Association.

The value of the abundance of fish and game as a tourist attraction is one which is becoming increasingly recognized. The new money which comes into the province from wealthy sportsmen of Eastern Canada and United States is surprisingly large, and offers great possibilities.

The Association is building to add to the attractiveness of the province, not only to outsiders but for its own citizens. It is building not only for this generation but for succeeding generations. One of its ideals is a province teeming with wild life, wisely used and wisely conserved.

INCURABLE IDEALISTS

Admitting without any argument that we are a wonderful people, one of our most wonderful and perhaps most touching qualities is our inexhaustible capacity for surprise. Each year we enter the harvest season with high heart, expecting a favored place in the sun, and a nice quick clean-up. Almost invariably, as soon as grain is ready for the threshers, obstacles develop in the way of rain or snow. It is our history, yet we never fail to be surprised. Each September when our fantastic weather throws everything awry, we draw on our good old store of emotions, and go cluck-clucking around. "This is terrible—the worst yet. Supposing it never does clear up. It might not. You never can tell." Astonishment, apprehension, perhaps some resentment that fate should treat a chosen people so scurvily.

Possibly one reason for our youthful intensity in regard to the weather is that we never can tell in Alberta. Each year Nature introduces variations of her familiar themes. Each year is a little different from any preceding year. There have been just enough "unprecedented" occurrences to justify us in our perpetual uncertainty.

But in reading through the back files of The Times as far as 1906, the month of September has, as a rule, failed to come up to that vague ideal of September to which we persistently cling. It is difficult to find any year when the threshing period has not recorded interruptions. Yet each year we discard our past experiences in favor of that almost impossible ideal, and express consternation and surprise when the same old delays occur. It was in 1912 that farmers of the district "realized that it would be a great advance if crops could be harvested before the middle of September." There has been advance since that time in earlier maturing grain, but despite all the efforts of man, it seems impossible to avoid the usual anxieties which attend the safe garnering of the crop.

Somebody has described the West as "the place where everybody talks all the time about the weather." Can anyone improve on that description?

HUMAN GRADING

One of our subscribers passed on an idea the other day by way of a joke. But it is an idea that offers food for pleasant rumination. He suggested that it would be nice if human beings were graded like wheat, No. 1 Hard, No. 1 Northern, No. 2 and so on all down the line, to the inferior stuff scarcely worth garnering. Of course most of us cling to the belief that there is a Great Grader who is doing just that thing, and that in another and better world, the Number 1 Hard amongst human beings will come into its reward.

But in the meantime it would be nice, if quite impossible, to see a little grading done on earth. Although the majority of people have a fairly high regard for those who achieve worldly success, there are not many who would consider this a prime requirement, in order to grade number one. It is after all, not the shell that counts but the kernel. The substance must be there, nourishing, sound and sweet.

What qualities of character do we most admire in our friends? What qualities are "sterling," resisting the impacts of time and tide? Most people would agree on honesty, as one of the basic qualities; honesty of speech, action and intention, in big affairs as well as small. On this is based every element of trust and confidence. But there are qualities of heart that are most important. The friends whom we prize most highly are responsive and understanding. They are quick to grasp the difficulties and viewpoints of other human beings, and to extend tolerance to opinions with which they may not agree. They are generous, not necessarily in material things, but in sharing freely of what is in their power to share.

These are amongst the qualities which most people would look for first in any effort at human grading. Beyond these, each individual would regard certain other virtues as indispensable to high grading. Some would require a good measure of intellectual power and a trained mind. Others would lay great emphasis on physical courage and fearlessness. Some value natural capability and efficiency in emergency, while others still would test for adaptability, courtliness and consideration.

It is very doubtful if the ability to acquire wealth would be considered by many as any evidence of quality. Apparently our bondage to gold, and those who acquire gold is not a worshipful bondage, but a superficial development. The No. 1 Hards of our acquaintance may be rich or they may be poor. But it is on entirely different qualities that they would make the top grade in human society.

DRAWS A LONG BOW FOR BRIT PUBLIC

Remarkable Tale of Experiences Related by Old Country Writer, Claims to Have Won Calgary Stampede

A man who calls himself Captain Dubois Phillips has been weaving some fine yarns for the British public.

In an article published in the September 8 issue of John O' London's Weekly, the doughty captain relates, among other things how he "rode a buck jumper" at the famous Calgary Stampede for 15 minutes to win the championship and a cash prize of $500 and how he took part in a fight to the death with a gang of horse thieves and smugglers. The fight did not end until every horse thief and smuggler lay dead on the prairie. The doughty captain counted no less than 200 dead men on the field of battle.

Calgary Stampede officials have, of course, no record of such a person. The maximum time limit for a bucking horse ride is ten seconds, and only a small percentage of riders stick it that long.

Captain Dubois Phillips' story of the fight between the cowboys and the horse thieves is a classic.

While visiting in Western Canada, he attended a meeting of cowboys where it decided to wipe out a gang of rustlers. There were 200 men in the rustlers band, but Phillips and 150 cowboys decided to exterminate them.

"The outlaws were cornered in an open gulch—200 of them—" the doughty captain related, "and for two days we shot it out. When the fight was over 200 rustlers lay dead and but side only lost three killed and four wounded, including myself."

The writer said that he spent the winter of that year in Calgary and it was so cold that a man, horse and buggy were found frozen to death on the "Calgary Road."

The book is being circulated in England.—Calgary Herald.

A FURTHER STEP on the Road to Recovery

A Statement by the Prime Minister of Canada

THE Dominion of Canada will offer for public subscription within the next few days the 1934 Refunding Loan. It is an undertaking of such significance to every citizen that I think it fitting to present this brief explanation of its close relation to the welfare and continued progress of our country.

The 1934 Loan is not an incidental effort. It is a part—and an essential part—of the great debt conversion programme in which Canada has been engaged since 1931, and by which we are refunding at maturity the large sums borrowed for wartime purposes. The national importance of this programme—and of the 1934 Loan as part of it—cannot be over emphasized. It is important from three aspects: 1—National Credit; 2—National Economy; 3—National Recovery. I shall deal with each of these in turn.

1. National Credit

National credit means to a nation what an honest reputation means to a man. Its maintenance is a primary essential and necessitates that each obligation be met, fully and promptly, as it comes due. Our debt conversion programme is then, in the first instance, our method of meeting our obligations and thus maintaining our credit.

By this programme Canada has already refunded $558,000,000 of maturing wartime debt, and completion of the 1934 Loan will bring the refunded total to over one billion dollars. As a result, Canada's credit stands notably high, both at home and in the great money markets of the world.

Striking evidence of our high credit standing was given within the last few months when Canada secured immediate over-subscription of a long-term loan in London at a price to yield the investor less than 3½% and, in New York, obtained a one-year Loan of $50,000,000 bearing interest at 2 per cent. And there is equally striking evidence at the present moment in the fact that every internal issue of Dominion of Canada Bonds now outstanding is selling today at substantially above its issue price. The twelve-year 4% Bonds of the 1933 Refunding Loan, issued at 96½%, are now selling at 104 to yield approximately 3½%.

2. National Economy

The debt conversion programme, in the second place, is providing substantial savings in public interest charges. The debt which we are refunding was incurred with interest rates at artificially high wartime peaks. Refunding is now being accomplished with interest rates throughout the world moving steadily downward toward more normal levels—an encouraging world movement which is essential to business recovery. By refunding under these conditions Canada has already obtained a reduction of the previous interest charges amounting to more than $9,000,000 per annum, and completion of the 1934 Loan will provide a further saving of over $5,000,000 per annum.

The annual saving of over $14,000,000 thus secured has a direct cash benefit to every tax-payer. This saving has much more than offset the interest charges on the debt which has been incurred to meet the extraordinary burden of unemployment relief. It has, to a considerable extent, offset the heavy burdens which the depression period has imposed with respect to railway and other current requirements. It will also pave the way to tax reductions with the return to better times.

3. National Recovery

The debt conversion which Canada has achieved since 1931, by thus maintaining national credit and securing national economy, has been a major factor in our progress toward business recovery.

A year ago, preliminary to the 1933 Refunding Loan, I took occasion to express the belief that Canada had passed the low point of depression and was definitely upon the road to recovery. Today, our progress toward recovery is a matter of established fact. Since the low point of February 1933, the trend of business has been moving steadily upward in an improvement so marked and so consistently sustained that we need no longer doubt its reality.

The facts of business recovery are written beyond dispute in our statistical records. The most significant indices relate to physical volume of business, industrial production, carloadings, electric power production, employment and prices. Here is the record in each case:

	During Past Year*	Since Low Point of Depression February 1933
Physical volume of business.....	13.8%	42.8%
Industrial Production.....	15.7%	56.9%
Carloadings.....	10.3%	29.4%
Electric Power Production.....	12.4%	32.7%
Employment.....	14.7%	17.1%
Wholesale Prices.....	4.0%	13.7%
Farm Products Prices.....	7.7%	43.3%

*In the case of carloadings, employment and prices, the latest figures available are those for August; in other cases, those for July.

Our external trade figures are equally encouraging. During the first eight months of the present year, exports of Canadian products increased approximately $99,000,000, or 32.7% over the same period last year. The corresponding increase for imports has been slightly under $93,000,000, or 38.2%.

A Further Step

Anyone who reflects upon these three aspects of credit, economy and recovery will at once appreciate that the debt conversion programme is vitally important to every Canadian and that, consequently, the success of the 1934 Loan is the personal concern of every man and woman in the Dominion.

The 1934 Loan is a further step in a great national undertaking; its success means a further step on the road to recovery. I know that I need not stress the attractiveness of the Loan as the soundest possible investment, for that will be universally recognized. I do, however, earnestly call upon my fellow Canadians to support this Loan to the limit of their abilities as an opportunity to promote our national welfare. I know of no way in which the individual citizen can render greater service to himself and to his country.

KIRKCALDY NEWS

L. Middleton was a business visitor in Calgary Saturday.

Mrs. A. W. Maisey and L. Maisey spent the week-end at High River as the guests of Mr. and Miss G. Simms.

S. W. Lawrie and family were week-end visitors in the Strathmore and Rockyford districts.

The Kirkcaldy school board have purchased a new heater for the school house.

About a week of good weather will see the end of the 1934 harvest as far as this point is concerned.

Mrs. Les Middleton spent last week visiting friends in the Rockyford district, also in Calgary, returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Sherman and Miss Bantim were visitors at the home of Miss Katie and Mr. S. Colwell for a few days last week.

Mrs. R. Sansome returned home Saturday after spending a week as a patient in the Vulcan Municipal Hospital.

Threshing and combining were again resumed here Monday after almost two weeks' delay from inclement weather.

The Sunday School Rally Day was a huge success. All children were highly praised for the splendid programme put on. Miss Katie Colwell gave a farewell address reviewing her work in the Sunday School and regretting very much that she was leaving to continue her studies at Three Hills.

The collection will be used for mission field work.

At the close several members of the Salvation Army gave talks on Sunday School work.

It is to be hoped that Rally Day will be an annual event and much praise is due those in charge for the successful Rally Day services.

THE EDITOR SPEAKS HIS MIND—THEN EXIT

Those of us who are used to reading "puffs" written often times in connection with weddings may find refreshment in the following "true" account of a recent wedding as one editor saw it. After giving the name of the bride and groom, this editor continues:

"The groom was a very popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he was plucked in his junior year in college. He manages to dress well and to keep up a supply of spending money because his dad is a soft-hearted old fool who takes up his checks instead of letting him go to jail.

"The bride is a skinny fast little idiot who has been kissed by every boy in town since she was 12 years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, smokes cigarettes and drinks whiskey when she is out joy riding in her father's car at night. She doesn't know how to keep house. The house was newly plastered for the wedding and the exterior newly painted, thus carrying out the decoration scheme appropriately, for the groom, was newly plastered and the bride newly painted.

"The groom wore a rented dinner suit over Athletic underwear of imitation silk. The pants were held by green suspenders. The number eight patent leather shoes matched his own state of tightness and harmonized nicely with the axle grease on his hair. In addition to his sag he carried a pocket knife, a bunch of keys, a dun for the ring, and his usual look of imbecility.

"The young couple will make their home with the bride's parents, which means they will sponge on the old man until he dies, then she will take in washing.

P. S. by editor—This may be the last issue of my paper, but it always has been my ambition to write up one wedding and tell the truth. After that is done death can have no sting."
—Exchange.

CANADA BANK STOCK IS GRABBED UP

Flotation of the $5,000,000 capital stock of the Bank of Canada was the feature of the week's governmental activities in Ottawa.

Such a flood of applications for stock poured into the office of the minister of finance, E. N. Rhodes, it was apparent the issue of 100,000 shares at a par value of $50 would be 100 per cent over-subscribed.

Co-incident with the applications for stock came applications for positions in the central banking institution and it was understood that these numbered about 1,500.
